PROGRAM EXECUTION AND OPERATIONAL READINESS

Tenward helps manufacturers, suppliers and commercial teams manage programs, recover supplier commitments and prepare for launch. Defined engagements bring direct founder involvement without a permanent addition to management overhead.

CORE CAPABILITIES

Program and portfolio execution

Integrated plans, PMO routines, schedule and milestone control, risk and issue management, resource coordination and executive performance reporting.

Supplier performance and recovery

Supplier readiness and delivery reviews, constraint tracking, recovery actions, purchasing and logistics coordination, escalation and commitment follow-through.

Manufacturing and launch readiness

New Product Introduction, tooling and prototype timing, APQP/PPAP milestone coordination, validation schedules and transition-to-production handoffs.

Change and operating controls

Engineering-change workflow coordination, ECR/ECO actions, BOM and product-data accuracy support, documentation and approval tracking, contract deliverables, work-package planning, pricing inputs and customer reporting.

FOUNDER EXPERIENCE

Anthony J. Marquette's prior professional experience spans automotive OEM programs, engineering-change and product-data control, multimillion-dollar program oversight, program-organization leadership and manufacturing readiness. His work connects engineering, purchasing, quality, suppliers and customer commitments. U.S. Coast Guard veteran. MBA in Global Business Management, PMP, ASQ CSSGB and CSM.

ENGAGEMENT AND ACCOUNTABILITY

Prior-employer experience belongs to the founder. Tenward has no completed attributable corporate contracts. Engineering design, testing, technical approval and manufacturing production require separately qualified resources and an applicable agreement.

Defined projects, pilots, direct prime engagements and justified subcontract work. Scope, availability, deliverables and acceptance criteria are agreed before commitment.
